

No. 79 of the Document Register
for 1947.

AFFIDAVIT.

I, the undersigned Hermann LEVEN, carpenter, residing at 7, Hauptstrasse, Herrntrop/Post Office Kirchhunden, after having been informed of the importance of an affidavit, declare herewith the following upon oath:

Since I had been employed over several years by the industrial police of the firm KRUPP in Essen in the capacity of carpenter and gate keeper, I frequently came into contact with Herrn von BUELOW and can describe him only as a good and kind person. For weeks I worked together with foreign workers in removing bomb damages. During this time he often said to me: "Herr LEBEN, I feel sorry for the foreign workers, could I possibly do something more for them?" This remark referred to treatment, food, drink and smoking. The people frequently said to me: "What a good boss he is." The Belgian carpenter, Julius VERBRUEGGEN, residing at 19, Kattenbergstr., Antwerp, who worked together with me for a long time, will be able to confirm my statement. He received several beautiful French books from Herr von BUELOW.

I am prepared to testify under oath before a Court in confirmation of my statement.
