

Affidavit

I, Rudolf TROCKEL, department manager, residing at Essen-Margarethen-hoehe, Im stillen Winkel 4, am making the following affidavit to be submitted to the Military Tribunal at Nuernberg. I know that I make myself liable to punishment if I submit a false affidavit.

The foreign workers assigned to the cast steel works were organized according to nationality. They were represented by the so-called delegations which represented the interests of their countrymen in dealings with the firms, the German Labor Front and the State.

Their task was to submit all complaints and requests to the responsible authorities and to get action on those problems. They worked with the full approval of the management of the firms and also had Vertrauensmaenner among the camp inmates of Krupp, with whom they kept in close contact.
They also had their own spokesmen in those individual plants who had large ethnic groups of foreigners and had the full approval of the management of the firm.
